

SkyQuaker release their debut album "1.5°"

OUT NOW

Listen Here

UK based Hard Rock Act SkyQuaker's first full length album, '1.5°', is finally here. Filled with riveting sound bites, highly skilled performances and powerful vocal lines, this album showcases the vast talent and uniqueness within this band. The project mixes rock, jazz and bhangra and doesn't disappoint with the collaborations. In the track '5 Claw', we are welcomed with the entrancing Punjabi vocals from Bhangra composer and radio DJ, Dav Singh. Later on in the album, the jazzy track 'I'm Alright Jaques' exhibits brilliant performances from Paul Jordanous and Mike Garson, the career pianist for David Bowie. As the band's first LP, it's a buzzing start, providing a brilliantly unique project for those looking for a cultured and colourful listen.

SkyQuaker is composed of frontman Stephen Hope-Wynne, lead guitarist Ben 'Ferdy' Ford, drummer Josh Brown and multi-instrumentalist and producer George McFarlane. Each one of these members have been highly accredited throughout their musical careers and boast a combined client list of Prince, Gabrielle, Sham69 and the Sex Pistols. So far, SkyQuaker have released 2 rare version singles "Thank God for Rock and Roll" and "Queen Kong" with accompanying music videos through Aurora Eclipse Productions. You can catch their debut album on the 5th May and stay tuned for their next shows via the socials, linked below.

Support SkyQuaker on Social Media
Instagram | Facebook | Twitter

Listen to more of SkyQuaker
Spotify | Apple Music